B.A. (Visharad) Social Sciences Second Year – Home Assignments / 5
Q.3  Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.  (6)

Some things we do because we have to. Some things we do because we like to. Things which attract and sustain our attention spontaneously are our interests. What we do during our moments of leisure reveals our interests. If our interests are developed along their natural channels leading on to allied occupations, our work will be an ever growing source of pleasure to us. Then the distinction between work and play vanishes and work becomes real play.

It is convenient for the purpose of vocational guidance to classify human interests under a few headings such as intellectual, practical, social, athletic and aesthetic interests. Those who are fascinated by intellectual activities form the first group. Professors, authors, lawyers and research workers are examples of this category. Those who are fascinated by practical things in life form the second group. They take delight in designing, making, working and repairing things. They pull them to pieces and put them together. The meccano enthusiasts, the radio fiend, the Budding photographer, all belong here.

Social interests find expression in story-telling, gossiping and attending tea parties, clubs and social gatherings. Those who are charitably inclined find joy in nursing, slum work and social service. Young people manifesting social interests should be considered for employment in which managing, advising, consoling, instructing and persuading other people play an important role. Salesmen, cooperative inspectors, welfare workers, nurses, practicing doctors, teachers come under this category. Some people like beautiful things only. They take immense delight in creating something or the other. Their aesthetic sense is remarkable. Such people find pleasure in music, painting, dancing, acting, fashion designing etc. All the artists are an asset to the nation. Hence people having aesthetic capabilities should not be placed in employment where their aesthetic sensibility would be shocked and blunted by drab and ugly things. Musicians, Painters, Dancers, Actors, Fashion Designers etc. fall in this category.

Outdoor life and strenuous physical exertion are the constant delight of some people. They love all kinds of games and sports. Their vivacious interests will find a happy outlet only in active occupations. It is indeed wastage of human material to allow our finest sportsmen to languish in office or factory. Such people, having athletic interests should be marked out from their youth for employment of an active type. The army, police, excise, customs, fire service, forestry, farming etc. are their proper fields. Sportsmen, Police officers, Firemen, Farmers etc. fall in this category.

Though such kind of classification helps us to map out suitable occupational areas, we should also understand the fact that the same person may have more than one dominant interest, or he may have significant minor interests along with a dominant one. The labeling of human beings should not be overdone.

Questions
1) Who are the people that have intellectual interests?
2) Which class of interests does photographers, meccano enthusiasts represent?
3) What are people with social interest good at.?
4) Who are the representatives of aesthetic interests?
5) Who are the representatives of athletic interests?
6) Which fact should be understood by us?
