

Critical Edition of Charaka Sutrasthana Bhaishajya Chatushka.

Ayurvedic texts form the base or foundation of knowledge of Ayurveda for Academic, Research, Practice, Manufacturing of Medicines etc. all purposes. We the Indians are very lucky in having a rich heritage of knowledge in the form of texts. This has been inherited from thousands of years, from generation to generation. The mode of transmission of knowledge was initially by mouth to mouth and later on was through manuscripts. While copying it is likely that some errors creep up in manuscripts. Since the texts are base of all applications in Ayurveda, these need to be rectified.

Oral tradition we have lost, but the available manuscript can be used to edit the texts. To resolve this issue we will use manuscripts from all over India.

Manuscripts from various families of manuscripts will be used to edit the present text.
